THOMAS OCTAVIOUS LEE AND ELLEN TADWELL LEE

Thomas Octavius Lee, son of Richard and Lydia Lee, was born in Nottingham.

England, December 4, 1823. In March of 1844 he and Ellen Tadwell were married. Ellen, daughter of Thomas Tadwell and Mary Nodder of Mansfield, England, was a member of the LDS Church, and so was her husband, he being the only member of his family to join. They became the parents of four children. The oldest daughter died of smallpox when very young.

Thomas Lee performed a one-year mission for the Church in Barnsley, England, while the children were small. Ellen, her children and two other families lived in the Social Hall at Sheffield, where she helped to keep the hall clean, took in washing, helped the missionaries from America, and taught Sunday School classes.

In 1860, Ellen Lee and the oldest son, John, came to Utah, crossing the plains in Joseph W. Young's company. They worked in Salt Lake City to earn money to help with travel expenses for the rest of the family to come to Utah.

Thomas O. Lee and his children, Mary Lavina, 17, and Orson Henry, 15, arrived in Salt Lake City in the autumn of 1863. They traveled by train and in a box car as far as St. Joseph, Missouri. The American Civil War was on and they were glad for even a box car. Then they crossed the plains in a handcart company. In 1864 the family moved to Heber, but in March of 1865, Thomas Lee was killed in a rockslide while getting out sandstone east of Heber, with the intention of using it to build a home for his family.

Ellen Lee and son John moved back to Salt Lake to get work, while Orson stayed with his sister Mary, who had married William Denton Moulton. During the holiday period of 1867, John Lee was making a trip from Salt Lake to Heber to visit his sister and brother when he became lost in a blizzard, being trapped in deep snow for eight days before being found, badly frozen, and taken the last 15 miles to his sister's home. He suffered terribly for three weeks longer before he died. Because of the severe winter his mother was unable to attend his funeral.

Ellen Lee moved back to Heber and lived until she was 77 years old. She did whatever she could for her support, with help from Orson and Mary. Young people loved her. She taught Sunday School 20 years, was active in Relief Society, and in November, 1869, she became president of the Primary. She was always devout and had a strong testimony that Joseph Smith was a true prophet of the Lord. —
